HE WHO SMOKES

Knows Good Cigars

And the best smokers know we sell the best cigars. No doubt that's the secret of our big cigar trade—men know our cigars to be depended on for quality of flavor and taste. We sell cigars of every size, shape and strength—each perfectly rolled, under most sanitary conditions, from perfectly grown and properly cured tobacco.

There's class to every cigar we sell.

We have the kind you like the best.

AMUSEMENTS

GRAND.

Never before in the history of Phoenix has there been so much applause given to a theatrical performance as given to Billie Friedlander and his company in his production of "The Spookers" last night. "Betsy Bolivar" is the biggest hit of any song that has been used in this city, taking fifteen encores, the entire company being forced to appear on the stage in the song. There is never a minutes that the audience is not laughing and the applause is tremendous. This is one of the best shows ever put on in Phoenix and the people should not miss the opportunity of seeing the last performance of this show tonight. On Monday night Mr. Friedlander will present for the first time in Phoenix "Fads and Follies," another of his Dutch comedies.

COLISEUM.

It took Professor De La Genesta about five seconds to free himself last night after he had been securely handcuffed and shackled by Policeman Hosmer and A. H. Davidson. "He'll never escape from that," said the skeptics—and there were not a few of them—in the audience, after they had seen the policeman and Mr. Davidson secure De La Genesta's hand and his feet with bands of steel. But they gasped with amazement when the mysterious, aristocratic appearing young magician walked forth a free man. No one was more amazed than Hosmer and Davidson themselves. They thought that De La Genesta would never get out of the handcuffs and shackles—not his own—which they locked upon his wrists and ankles. "It's no use," they said after the first show. "We won't shackle him for the second performance—it's no use."

"I wouldn't like to have to hold the professor as a prisoner," said Policeman Hosmer.

Tonight De La Genesta, instead of his handcuff act, will put on an original cabinet scene, decidedly different from any other ever presented on the American stage.

The entire Coliseum bill was changed last night. The Gridley's rendered some new bird imitations. Mr. Gridley imitating the different birds on his mandolin, as the pictures of the feathered creatures were thrown on the screen. Sidney Jerome & Co. presented an unusually funny comedy entitled "Mrs. Dunn's Reception."

Several fine acts have been engaged for next week at the Coliseum. Those on the list are the Dodges, comedy singing and dancing; Burke & Burke, in a comedy turn entitled "The Messenger and the Maid," and Miss Helena Valdez, a sweet singer who sings in both Spanish and English.

WHAT IS NEEDED.

Has some prospect better pleased you? Did you ever lift your eye—Anywhere in any country—To a fairer, bluer sky? Ever breathe an air diviner, Ever know a land confessed Half so rich and full of promise As this much-maligned Southwest? Then surely you have visited The Islands of the Blest.

Did you ever note the splendor—That is baffling and supreme As the fairest, finest picture That can fill a poet's dream—Of a shifting, long procession Of the white clouds, one by one, As they reddened down the roadway Of the far—setting sun? Then you've been in Arizona. When a glorious day was done!

You have said there's something nobler Than the cataraet which falls, "Twixt Ontario and Erie, Over adamantine walls; And the Yellowstone attraction You admit can scarce be spanned Even in imagination. Yet a greater is at hand. Then we know you've seen The Canyon Which is justly called The Grand.

Blest with rich, abundant treasures, And ideals high and pure, Let us build a civic temple Making its foundations sure. Heaven send us dauntless leaders—Lack of these our greatness mars—Men who measure with our mountains, Who are strong as iron bars; Men whose purposes are lofty As the orbits of the stars. ANDREW DOWNING.

LADIES ORCHESTRA

ARTISTIC AGGREGATION

High-Class Musical Organization
Opens the Wigwam Theater.

Had there been an attendance at the Wigwam theater worthy of the attraction at the opening of that house last evening, every seat would have been taken and the "standing-room only" sign displayed. In the aggregation of lady soloists, secured from the personnel of the late Chicago Ladies' Symphony orchestra and presented by Manager George D. Mullen, a musical organization of merit and ability not often heard in any theater has been brought to Phoenix. The stamp of the artist appears in the work of every young lady in the orchestra, and the audience, to the individual, voiced its approval with applause which in no instance ceased until encore after encore had been rendered.

Miss Lois Kelly, violinist and director, wields a bow with the charm and technique of a master, bringing out tones, appealing at times and at others transforming the instrument into a throbbing, living medium of melody. Miss Helena Gearman, cor-

Our New Shorthand Room Will Be Opened November 14, 1910

We can then accommodate twenty-five more students. Our present enrollment will only fill about half the estimated number of vacancies in office positions in the Salt River Valley during the year 1911. Why don't you prepare yourself so that it will not be necessary to send to Los Angeles or east for office help, as has been the case in several offices in Phoenix during the past month?

TYPEWRITING

We have exchanged all our typewriters that have been in use more than one year for new ones and have added several more to our typewriting department, so that it is now up-to-date in every respect. Our equipment includes the latest adding, subtracting and billing machine. Advanced students are given practice work in the office every day. Carbon and letter-press copies, mimeographing receive special attention.

SHORTHAND

We teach all the standard systems, Gregg, Pitman, Graham, McKee, Barnes, etc. Our shorthand teachers have had actual work as stenographers and, therefore, know just what kind of work students should do in order to prepare themselves for actual office work. No time is lost in theorizing which would have to be changed later. There are so many classes in shorthand that students may advance as rapidly as their time and ability permit.

BOOKKEEPING

We teach bookkeeping by the actual business method. Each student carries out with the six mercantile offices and the bank every transaction as though he were actually in business. In our mercantile offices and in the bank business is necessarily done as in actual business. The student who has completed our business course is perfectly at home in his first office from the day he begins work. This result can be secured in no other way.

SIX TEACHERS

Are employed all or part of the time, each a specialist in some branch. A special teacher of penmanship, arithmetic and bookkeeping; a special teacher of shorthand and typewriting; a special teacher of spelling, business English and letter writing; a special teacher of business practice and office work. No other school in Arizona employs such a corps of teachers.

Have You Ever Heard of the GREAT YAQUI VALLEY SONORA, MEXICO

Where You Can Buy Fertile Irrigated Land For $25 an Acre

Let me tell you about this wonderful land on the WEST COAST of MEXICO where exists TODAY every condition required for PROFITABLE farming.

Railroad transportation for you and your crops—Water for the irrigation of your land—Soil that yields enormous crops—a market, in MEXICO, at high prices, for all staple products—an exceptionally fine climate—

Great Irrigation System Now in Operation

Water costs 60c. per acre foot, the rate fixed by the Mexican Government.

Americans are alive to this rare opportunity. They are rapidly colonizing the Yaqui Valley and bringing its broad acres under cultivation. They know that CHEAP IRRIGATED LAND—good land—is almost a thing of the past in the west.

netist, is on a par with any musician ever heard in the southwest, while Miss Irene Snedigar, clarinetist, succeeded in practically enthraling the discerning members of the audience, who were able to distinguish in her work a talent seldom found in any but the greater symphony players. The rendition of "La Poloma" by the orchestra kept the audience spellbound until the last note had died away, and then there came an outburst of applause which forced a response which was equally well received.

Miss Ethel Hall, soprano soloist, rendered but one number, an illustrated song, "I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now," which served to bring out the talent of the young lady to the best advantage. Her voice possesses a peculiar charm which at once wins for her a warm place in the heart of every lover of music, and the illustrations were among the best ever seen in this city.

Manager Mullen, who for a number of years was trombone soloist with Gilmore's band, gave two selections, "Answer" and "The Man in the Overalls," which were little short of remarkable. The entertainment is interspersed with moving pictures, 2,000 feet in all, of a class as good as are to be seen in any playhouse in the United States. There will be a complete change of program, both of solos and of pictures, this evening and in the enclosed house every lover of music will be extended every comfort found in the smaller theaters.

DEMANDS ON TIME OF HON. B. A. FOWLER

Forces Him to Cancel Engagements to Speak at Two Meetings of National Importance.

Owing to the press of other business, President B. A. Fowler of the National Irrigation congress and the Phoenix Y. M. C. A., has been forced to cancel engagements to deliver addresses at the Trans-Mississippi congress in San Antonio, Texas, and at the deep waterways conference in St. Louis. He will leave Phoenix late in November to attend a meeting of the board of governors of the Irrigation congress at Chicago, and from there will go on to Washington to be present at the annual Rivers and Harbors congress.

The Trans-Mississippi congress will hold a three days' session in San Antonio, November 22, 23 and 24. The deep waterways conference will meet November 25 and 26. Mr. Fowler had agreed to be present at both, though he was certain to have to hustle to fill two engagements coming so close together. Recent developments, however, have demonstrated the impossibility of his being at either San Antonio or St. Louis. In fact, it will be a struggle for him to get away for the board of governors' meeting, which occurs December 1, but it is absolutely necessary that he attend that session. Being in the east, he will go on to the Washington for the Rivers and Harbors congress, which convenes December 5. Officials of the three congresses wrote him urgent letters, asking that he be present and deliver addresses as president of the National Irrigation congress. Aside from his private affairs, the collection and membership campaigns of the Y. M. C. A., to which he is devoting a great deal of attention, much of Mr. Fowler's time is taken up with National Irrigation congress correspondence. There is probably no office in Phoenix with correspondence covering so much of the earth's surface as that of Mr. Fowler. He receives letters from every state in the Union and from numerous foreign countries. This correspondence is constantly growing in volume.

COW WORTH OWNING.

Some cows may give better milk, but no cow in the world gives so much of it as Josephine, an 8-year-old Holstein-Friesian, the queen of the herd of the Missouri State College of Agriculture. Just now Josephine is undergoing a test to determine how much milk she will give in a year, says the Technical World magazine for November. Having already broken all the other lactation records is a pretty safe bet that Josephine will establish a clear title to the heavy-weight milk producing championship and hold it safe for sometime.

Colanthe 4th Johanna, owned in Rosendale, Wis., used to be the prize cow, but Josephine has beaten every one other records. In the first six months of the present test Josephine produced 15,844 pounds of milk against 15,541 pounds for Colanthe. In one day Josephine produced 110.2 pounds of milk against Colanthe's 106; in one month Josephine produced 2,800 pounds against the Wisconsin cow's averages for two, three, four, five and six months.

The average farmer is satisfied if his cows give ten quarts of milk a day, but Josephine gives enough to fill fifty-four quart bottles. Giving the average person two-thirds of a pint of milk a day she could supply a hotel with 165 boarders. The butter from her milk would be enough to supply forty boarders three times a day. Naturally with such a high production the milk given by Josephine is inferior to that given by the average dairy cow, although it meets and exceeds the legal requirements of butter fat. It is estimated that her milk will produce a revenue of $1,200 to $1,500 a year.
